I would recommend this book because it talks about life not always being easy, and that people should help others when they need it."

Blubber is about a girl who moved to a different place, and the kids at her new school make fun of her because she is big. Blubber is left over fat from a whale, that's why they call her that. One of the girls dressed for Halloween as Blubber, and they pranked her house and wrote on her driveway "blubber!"
